SOUND OFF

729-4006

Sound Off 729-4006 is an opinion forum. A place for readers to comment or unwind. To join in, please call 729-4006 after 5 p.m. on weekdays and anytime over the weekend. Please leave longer messages at our web site at www.micomnews.com. Callers must not slander the good citizens of Western Wayne County. Readers must be aware that Sound Off callers' opinions are not presented as facts. MCN neither shares nor endorses callers' opinions. We only provide a place, for our readers to speak freely.

Sound Off could be the start of the new Local Inquirer rag

I just want to thank Mr. Baumann for his letter to the editor in this week's paper.

I have always thought that the Sound Off section was poor journalism. It says right at the top of this Sound Off that "Callers must not slander the good citizens of Western Wayne County," and yet, I'm waiting to read that the mayor of Westland is pregnant with an alien child (that he conceived with taxpayers' money of course).

How about you people at the paper start a new rag called "The Local Inquirer"?

Wrong for Westland police to be used in campaign spots

I've been looking at the local advertisements on TV for Spencer Abraham.

I'm not sure it's quite proper for uniformed Westland police and Westland Police Department's station to be used for political purposes.

It's OK to back whoever you want, but I don't think it's OK for uniformed police officers to endorse Abraham or Debbie Stabenow.

Perhaps someone ought to look into this in lieu of Mayor Thomas, who's never in town.

Enough outspoken Sound Offs callers to avoid repeats Sunday

Please stop repeating the same Sound Offs in the Sunday paper that were already in the Thursday paper.

Surely with all of the outspoken people in the city of Westland, repeats shouldn't be necessary.

I also dislike the nasty personal comments about people.

Police, students team-up to visit Special Tree unit

Enthusiastic musical tunes and warm personal relationships were the key elements of a Make a Difference Day program at Special Tree NeuroCare rehabilitation center in Romulus.

Ten Romulus police officers, high school band members and 36 young students involved in a police mentoring program visited the center to interrelate with the residents there, who are suffering from various types of brain injuries.

Police Lt. James Rafalski said the youth his officers are currently working with "need a boost" and local authorities feel activities such as last Saturday can provide that positive element they need.

Each officer in the Project 2008 Group Mentoring Program is matched up with from four to six youth in grades 3, 4 and 5.

The party conducted at Special Tree was a "reward" for those youth who met all their recent goals.

"In many ways our clients need a boost in a similar way that these kids do," Michelle Orme, Special Tree Activities Coordinator, stated. The uplifting event makes the youth feel good and at the same time places smiles on those suffering with serious disabilities, she added.

Special Tree staff members treat persons, who have experienced serious brain injuries, sustained in traffic or other types of accidents.

The Police Mentoring Group selected a trip to the Special Tree facility because October was National Brain Injury Awareness Month.

Sullivan & Bovitz to face voters on Tuesday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

First term Wayne County Commissioner John Sullivan (D-Wayne) and his challenger Rob Bovitz (R-Canton) will battle next Tuesday as Romulus voters turn out to face another blanket long list of candidates and public issues.

The contest for the two year county commission term will provide a major challenge for local voters - as they select who will be their voice on county road, Detroit Metro Airport and other western Wayne County issues.

Local election precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday.

Other key parts of Tuesday's ballots are two state and two county proposal issues.

The most controversial are the state proposals, namely: Proposal 00-1 known as the school voucher issue, and Proposal 00-2 known as the home rule issue.

City voters also will cast their ballots for their choice for President with six options facing them: including Vice President Al Gore, Texas Gov. George Bush and Green Party candidate Ralph Nader.

Incumbent U.S. Senator Spencer Abraham, a Republican, faces six challengers including Democrat Debbie Stabenow.

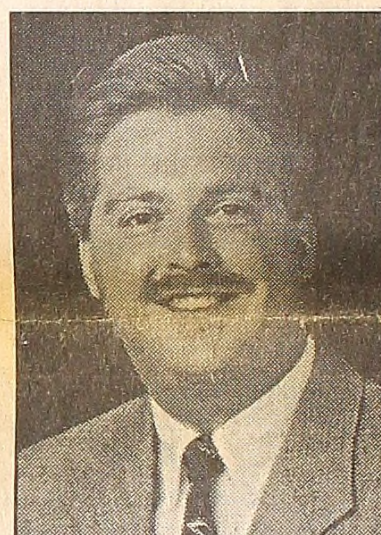

Another incumbent, Congresswoman Lynn River, a Democrat, faces four challengers including Republican Carl F. Berry.

In one of the quieter races of the day, State Rep. Raymond Basham (D-Taylor) faces twin challenges from Republican Robert Chmielewski and Libertarian Kenneth Reyes.

Other heavy favorites seeking Romulus votes are Michael E. Duggan, Democratic candidate for county prosecutor; and Robert A. Ficano, Democratic candidate for county sheriff.

John Sullivan

A long string of university board candidates and judicial candidates (including 34th District Court Chief Judge Tina Brooks Green) also are on the ballot. Green is running unopposed.

It's Over!!!

It's all about hearing

Chris Whittle (second from left), the CEO and Founder of Edison Schools, recently had an opportunity to visit the Inkster School District. Mary Moss, principal at Meek Elementary School, gave Whittle an extensive tour of the school where he met and chatted with pupils and encouraged them to read and learn. Later, Whittle also talked with students, parents and staff regarding the status of the "New Edison Educational Model" for the Inkster schools. Inkster is the first school district in the State of Michigan to invite a "for profit" corporation to run and operate an entire school district. Whittle promised his personal commitment and resources to make the school district a better place for students to learn and develop their skills in order to become productive citizens of society. With Whittle, are Mrs. A. Amis, Pre-K director, and educators Rasmussen and Forbes, along with some of the pupils.

Inkster mayor impressed with community policing

By TOM MORRADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Inkster Mayor Hilliard Hampton, Jr. told council members and a audience of citizens that he was extremely impressed with a program implemented in High Point, North Carolina on Community Policing.

The first-term mayor pointed out that though many cities and townships across the country have implemented "a community policing program", Hampton said, "the entire (police) department, and not a selected few, operate on the Community Policing theory."

"Officers are assigned to a section of the city where they get to know the residents and the business owners and managers," Hampton continued. "The officers provide one-on-one service to the people in their section. The officers treat people as their customer, and bend over backwards to assist them."

Hampton, along with first-term council member Marcus Hendricks, made the trip to High Point, a city of about 82,000 residents that encompasses 32 square miles.

Inkster was one of the first cities in the state, if not the nation to implement Community Policing, thanks to the efforts of Inkster Police Chief Terry Colwell, who managed to secure funds for the program via federal grants.

Hampton said that Inkster's program has reaped benefits, but he would like to see it expanded, copied if necessary, under the auspices of the High Point program.

In a period when Inkster is considering downsizing its public housing units, where, according to a former councilman 87 percent of the local crime is generated, Inkster should look to the High Point experience for solutions to its

We just want you to know that we are here to assist you in making this a safer area to live in and any assistance that you can give us will help us in making this a reality.'

Hampton said "High Point gets results."

The Inkster mayor urged the media to "spread the news" and then "hopefully we may also implement a similar program locally and in nearby communities."

local programs.

"Any reports that are taken in the public housing sector are forwarded to the respective site manager for disposition by the Public Housing Commission," Hampton stressed. "All felony reports are forwarded to the respective investigative units where they are assigned as a priority case."

"In an event of a serious crime, such as homicide, felony assault, rape, burglary and arson, the Violent Crimes Task Force is immediately notified and that unit, which is comprised of Housing Offices, the DEAA, ATF and the FBI then floods the area and conducts 'Knock and talk' sessions."

The Inkster mayor stressed that the knock and talk technique is a door-to-door swarming of law enforcement in quest for evidence and suspects to solve the incident.

There's a new cop on the beat

There's a new cop on the beat.

Police Chief Mike Sumeracki announced that the police force's newest member is Dave Porlas, who officially began his police career in Wayne on Oct. 23.

Originally from Saginaw, Officer Porlas is a graduate from Alma College and has a bachelor's degree in Liberal Arts, with a major in History.

In August Porlas also graduated from the Police Academy at Delta Community College.

"I couldn't decide between a police officer or a teaching career," admits Porlas. "I decided I wanted to do something a little exciting while I'm young and after I retire I'd like to become a teacher."

Porlas will receive 15 additional weeks of training with three different Wayne police officers. He will ride with them to observe and get to know the city. Porlas also will be evaluated every day in 10 different categories.

By the end of the new officer's training he will be responsible for the majority of the case work.

Porlas' parents still reside in Saginaw, a city that is on the eastern (sunny-side) of the state and offers a window on to Lake Huron. His father, Dave, is retired from Ford Motor Company and his mother, Rachel, is an emergency room nurse at St. Mary's Hospital. He also has an older sister who lives in Midland, Mich.

Getting a Head Start

Santa Claus is coming to Wayne on Nov. 18

Bet you can't guess who is coming to town on Nov. 18?

Did you say "Santa?" You're right.

Santa will be the main - but not the only - attraction of the Wayne Rotary Christmas Parade which is scheduled for Nov. 18.

"Santa definitely is on his way," says Parade Chairperson Donna McEachern. "It's that time of the year."

McEachern said this year's parade will begin at Second Street and travel to Glenwood to Wayne Road, then follow Michigan Avenue West to the State Wayne Theater.

At the theater, children will be invited to visit with Santa in the lobby of the theater. Coloring books, soda pop, and popcorn will be available for children of all ages.

McEachern also stressed that the parade committee is still seeking more participants.

If you or your group wish to participate in the parade, please contact McEachern who may be reached at 734-721-0100.

Reality Store awaits its first of 500 customers

By TOM MORRADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Five hundred Wayne-Westland students will receive a "reality check" in November when they patronize the Reality Store.

The Reality Store is scheduled to open for business on Nov. 11 at Wayne Memorial High School.

The concept behind the Reality Store is to help students understand the difference between dreams and goals as a part of life, and the role resources, usually the lack of them, play in the reality-check of reaching life's goals.

Fastened on the window of the Reality Store is the following life experience. It reads: "I always knew just what I was going to do when I was grown up. I would live in a mansion with a built-in pool, a tennis court, and maid service of course."

"Then I went to the Reality Store. I found out that my future plan was more like a dream. Everything costs more than I realized, and there are a lot of things that I have to pay for; that I never even thought about."

"When they told me that my pretend monthly salary was $2900,

I thought I was rich. Then I started subtracting costs for taxes, housing, utilities, food transportation, health care, day care, insurance, toiletries, clothing, and so on, I found out I wasn't."

Thus, the cold facts of economics 101 set in.

The Reality Store will be open for business at Wayne Memorial High School.

For more information about the store, contact Mary Ann Ellis, president of the Wayne Business and Professional Women, at 734-595-2676.

We endorse Anderson and Bovitz in local races

I saw a placard the other day asking, "Who Let the Dogs Out?" The sign, a takeoff on the BaHa Men's popular song, was making reference to those in support of the voucher proposal. Unfortunately, locally that's about as wicked as any local campaign has gotten. Many slots find the candidate running totally unopposed, as in most of the Van Buren Township contests, or the race was decided at the Primary level.

One race that has drawn some fire is the County Commission seat currently held by John Sullivan, a Democrat from Wayne. He is being challenged by Rob Bovitz, an accountant from Canton. In a campaign that has included a lot of name calling and grandstanding, more probably from Bovitz than from Sullivan, we see a wire to wire race shaping up that might go the way of the Presidential Election.

Our choice, here, is Bovitz. In the mold of Bruce Patterson and Loren Bennett, when they first ran for office, Bovitz is high energy, calling out his opponent at every opportunity. This has angered some, but we would like to see this energy at the Commission, versus the McNamara machine.

In the other area County Commission race, veteran Kay Beard is being challenged by Republican, William Steele. After her 71 to 28 per cent Primary victory over popular Westland Mayor Robert Thomas, we pity Mr. Steele. Beyond her ability to swamp her opponents, Beard is a terrific representative for the people of her district, and should be returned to office without question.

At the State Representative level, Westland City Council member Glenn Anderson ironically is facing off against fired Westland clerk, Patricia Gibbons, a Republican. We say ironic because Anderson was one of Gibbons' most vocal supporters when the majority on Council unceremoniously dumped her.

We ask voters to send Glenn Anderson to Lansing. Always prepared and thorough, Anderson has a better command of the issues than any of his council counterparts. Although he usually tows the Democratic line, he can be vociferously independent when it is in the best interest of his constituents.

On the other hand, Gibbons, although well-liked, has not held political office and does not have a great grasp of state-wide issues. She would better serve her constituency by starting her political career at the city or county level.

State Representative Bruce Patterson, a Canton Republican, is being challenged by Mickey Walsh. Patterson, with a largely Republican district, is expected to win this race handily. We would chastise Patterson a little bit, however. Lately he has flip-flopped on some issues, and is often difficult to track down. Walsh deserves credit for mounting a grass-roots campaign even though odds are stacked against success.

And in the State Representative district that was held by Wayne's Tom Kelly, former Garden City Mayor, Jim Plakas is opposed by Republican Delvyn Rockwell. The real contest was in August, and Plakas plastered Ken Warfield. Rockwell won't be any different. We support Plakas and expect he will represent us well in Lansing.

Former Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry has the pleasure of taking on rock-solid incumbent Democratic Congresswoman Lynn Rivers. In a district that many consider swing, Rivers always manages to win, and in a big way. Maybe it is because she spends more time on the job and is always available for any constituent. Or maybe it is because her voting record is solidly independent.

Berry with little money and no history of holding public office has little chance to unseat Rivers. However, he does deserve credit for knocking on doors, to the tune of 70 hours a week. Despite those efforts, we throw our solid support behind Rivers, and ask voters to do the same.

Canton Township has a couple of Democratic candidates for a Board that is 100 per cent Republican at this point. Two-term incumbent treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter is being challenged by corporate financial officer, Steven Kiljanczyk. Technology, or the lack thereof is Kiljanczyk's rallying cry. He bemoans Canton's inability to accept automated payments. Additionally, he would seek money for more fire stations and street repairs.

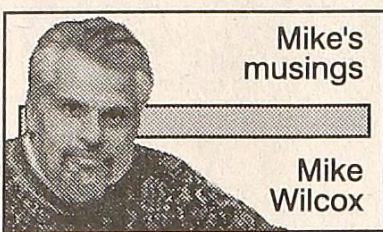

We support Kirchgatter, who has served the township adequately for eight years. She has made great strides in making her office more citizen-friendly and boasts of a AA credit rating, the highest of any township in the state.

Five candidates are running for four trustee seats on the board. Four candidates are incumbent Republicans and one is a challenging Democrat. We recommend voters elect the lone Democrat, Thomas Hartnett, an attorney with the Friend of the Court, to one of the trustee posts. Hartnett is a strong advocate of limited development and has vocally criticized the Board for being a rubber stamp to some builders.

We also recommend incumbents Melissa McLaughlin, Phil LaJoy and Robert Shefferly be returned to their seats. All are longtime residents of Canton, LaJoy since 1976, Shefferly came in 1972, and McLaughlin dug roots in 1962.

The Supervisor's position is being contested in Van Buren Township where independent candidate Kenneth Landstrom is running against longtime Township Clerk Cindy King. Landstrom is a Romulus police officer who has been a vocal supporter of the Belleville police in their battle with the City. King has been clerk for eight years and knows the ins-and-outs of the township better than most. She will make a fine supervisor and we heartily support her.

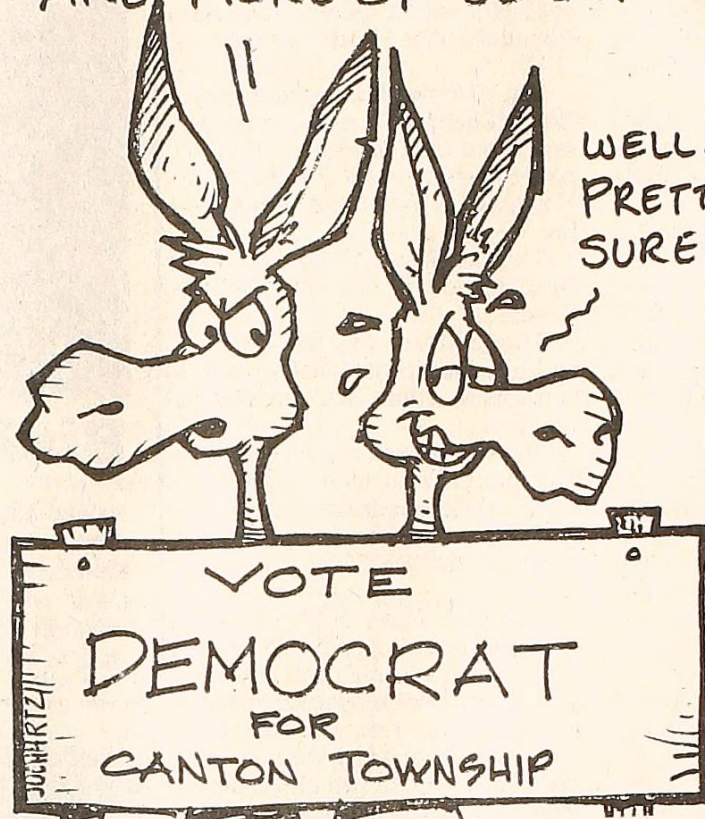

We could go on. There are numerous proposals, candidates for judge and county positions, write-ins in Sumpter, etc., etc. But we would do you a disservice in many instances, because we know some of the state and county candidates less than you do. What we suggest is that you retain a sample ballot, study it at length and make informed choices when you go to the polls, Tuesday, November 7.

YOU'RE SURE THERE ARE MORE OF US OUT HERE?

Dialogue should clear up racial profiling perceptions

Harold Fowler deserves better. Thanks to a political shakeup in Westland, he may finally get it.

The former University of Michigan professor turned Westland Police-Community Relations Committee member, has earned a dignified retirement.

Instead, he finds himself cross-examined by angry citizens wanting to know why former Westland City Council President Trav Griffin denied minority citizens, most of them longtime Westland residents, a city council study session about perceptions of racial profiling in Westland.

"I was asked to serve on the committee and I agreed," said Fowler, who, as a former Inkster school board member, has navigated stormier seas and battled nastier pirates before.

But Fowler had nothing to do with Griffin's decision to dodge the citizens' request for a study session after racial profiling questions bubbled in the wake of the June 3 traffic stop arrest of Willie Slater, an African-American chemical engineer who was visiting Detroit from Houston.

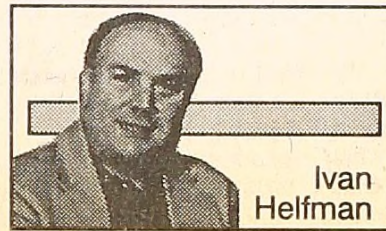

Slater claimed that he was stopped for driving while black.

Police said they stopped Slater for driving a BMW because a pine tree shaped air freshener dangled from the rear view mirror.

With good people on both sides disagreeing, this was probably a mutual misunderstanding.

But instead of calling for a study session where both sides could hash out the mutual misunderstandings, Griffin created the sham Westland Police-Community Relations Committee to try and solve a political problem -- he was being recalled. Eventually he succumbed to gloom and resigned, ending his political problem, but creating another one as polite study session requests turned into angry demands. Secondhand racial profiling tales spread. Rumors spread.

Worse, because Griffin wouldn't allow police their best shot: to meet with residents at a study session, look them in the eye, and explain that Westland police have no racial profiling policy. And he wouldn't allow police their best shot to explain that the US partment of Justice is training every Westland cop, from the rawest rookie up to Police Chief Emery Price, in community relations for six hours.

Griffin decision also denied police officers a chance to ferret out the roots of the minority residents' misunderstandings of police policies and realities.

"People accuse us of simply stopping minority drivers because of their race and no other reasons, but I'm telling you that we do not condone this nor do I know of anyone in law enforcement who does," said Chief Price.

How else except through a dialogue can he find out why some people don't understand this?

Denied a dialogue, frustrated residents descended on council meetings and complained, but they hit a brick wall.

More frustrated, the same residents appeared at committee meetings, repeating the complaints to the volunteer committee members who had nothing to do with the committee's creation.

This was the situation that Fowler found himself in when new Council President Sandra Cicirelli stepped in and called for a study session.

At first, she called for a mutant study session, one without a dialogue. The mutated session format would have allowed the minority residents to ask questions but not receive immediate answers.

"This is not good," said Sherry Douglas, spokesperson for the minority group, who wondered why her group couldn't get an unrestricted study session like developers or city vendors always get.

But mounting opposition to the mutant study has convinced Cicirelli that there must be some dialogue at the study session.

"I think that a discussion is necessary," she now says. However, the exact format hasn't been decided.

By bringing both parties to the table, Cicirelli has an opportunity to end the needless friction between minority residents and Westland police officers.

If so, perhaps Harold Fowler can then retire happy.

Bad cops promoted with good

According to an article in the October 28th Detroit News, members of the Detroit Board of Police Commissioners expressed "concerns" about some of the 66 police officers promoted to the ranks of lieutenant, sergeant and detective last Friday.

Although prohibited by law from discussing specific personnel, serious charges such as using their guns to threaten people while off duty and assaulting private citizens by some of the officers promoted were among the concerns voiced.

The truly outrageous part of

Medium Rare

this story, if true, is the statement that, "the department's contract with the police union requires that officers be promoted as a group based on factors such as test scores, but their disciplinary records cannot be considered."

At a time when serious questions are being raised about use of excessive force by some police officers (including shooting deaths), it boggles the mind to find that such incidents can not be taken into consideration in promotions where officers have been disciplined. (Lack of discipline and thorough investigation of incidents is another issue being debated.)

Who should be held accountable for this outrage and how can it be corrected. Let's start at the beginning.

Union officers who inserted such a provision in contract demands should be immediately replaced by the rank and file and negotiations be opened to delete it.

Police officials who approved or acquiesced to the provision and recommended it to the City Council for approval should be fired.

Any council member who knowingly voted to approve a contract with that provision should either resign or be recalled.

With all the problems extant in the Detroit Police Department, we don't need bad cops being promoted to positions of higher authority.

Sullivan helped senior find medicine

To the editor:

I would like to publicly thank Wayne County Commissioner John Sullivan for coming to my rescue when I needed help.

I'm a 70-year-old senior citizen who is on a fixed income, like most seniors, I only have Medicare to take care of my medical needs.

I had contacted several insurance companies trying to get prescription coverage. Every one of them only offered a very limited coverage plan. That was no help to me since my prescriptions alone cost $981.00 per month. That's each and every month.

It's hard to buy medications since my monthly income is only $954.00 after I pay for my Medicare.

The question I kept asking myself was 'What am I going to do?'

It seemed like all hope was lost. Not a glimmer of light could be seen. That is, until my son spoke with and explained my situation to Commissioner John Sullivan.

The Commissioner telephoned me the very next day. He said there was a program called "World Medical Relief" that would be able to assist me. He also told me about a senior citizen service at the Kay Beard building and who to see there.

Well, I went there and I met with the person Commissioner Sullivan said to talk to. I was able to get MEPPS (Michigan Emergency Pharmaceutical Program for Seniors) vouchers to help with my prescriptions. I didn't know anything about these programs until I talked with my Commissioner John Sullivan.

I could tell by talking with him that he is a very compassionate, caring and understanding person who really cares about the people he represents. I am very grateful to him for helping me with my situation.

I can honestly say that Wayne County Commissioner John Sullivan is a dedicated, hardworking public servant who deserves to be re-elected. He does the right thing for the people.

Please join me and vote to re-elect Commissioner John Sullivan. We need to send him back to the Wayne County Commission to let him continue to serve the people of the 11th District. Thank you Commissioner and God bless.

Sincerely,
May Jones
Wayne

Now is the time to decide the future of welfare reform

To the editor:

As a private citizen and as director of the Michigan Family Independence Agency, I would like to offer your readers my personal perspective on welfare reform in this state and the nation.

Vice President Al Gore is trying to take credit for welfare reform despite the fact that the Clinton-Gore Administration vetoed welfare reform twice, and then only signed it after being told another veto could cost them the 1996 election. Let's get this straight once and for all: A Republican Congress and forward thinking Governors - like John Engler, Tommy Thompson and George W. Bush - directed the efforts to dismantle a system that bribed families into self-defeating behaviors and led to a never-ending cycle of dependency.

But it's no surprise that Gore wants to step in and take credit now. The efforts to reduce public assistance by encouraging recipients to enter the workforce and strive for economic self-sufficiency have been extremely successful. Even long-time welfare advocates are convinced the old system trapped people in dependence and reform has given them the push they needed.

From a peak caseload of more than a quarter of a million in 1994, Michigan has achieved a 70 percent reduction in active welfare cases, the lowest number since 1970. Governor Tommy Thompson of Wisconsin reduced welfare dependence and cut his state's child poverty rate in half. And a recent study ranked Texas one of only ten "highly successful" states in reducing welfare rolls. Under Governor Bush, welfare rolls were cut by more than half while poverty has decreased 17 percent, outpacing the national decrease.

States now have the ability to experiment with a variety of promising approaches that are critical to the long-term success of current welfare reform efforts. Michigan's creative and innovative approaches, such as Project Zero and the Summer Project 2000 have definitely contributed to our success. Project Zero identifies and eliminates barriers to employment at the community level. So far, 78 sites across the state have reported that all those required to work have earnings.

This year's eight-week Summer Project helped non-working welfare families address barriers to employment through participation in comprehensive services for the entire family. The project components provided a full range of job readiness skills, education, health, recreational, family growth and development activities and other services.

If the Clinton-Gore Administration had gotten away with their vetoes, none of this would have been possible. In fact, I worry that a Gore Administration will force us to re-debate the successful changes from 1996 rather than focus on the future.

With new policies and new perspectives, we have successfully shifted away from a program that once paid people to stay home to one that provides incentives and support for employment and self-sufficiency. The statistics show we're on the right track. The myths about the impossibility of reducing dependence have been shattered. Yet, there is more work to be done.

On the heels of these sweeping changes, the next round of national debate is now beginning. In 2002, Congress must decide the future direction of welfare reform. This is the time to increase state flexibility, simplify federal requirements and provide an adequate funding level that will pledge continued success. Our progress in Michigan - and nationally - argues for a continuation of what has worked and new initiatives so that no families are left behind. We need an administration led by an individual who has proven success at welfare reform to ensure we move into the future, not revisit the past. Governor George W. Bush is that individual.

Welfare reform has re-taught us all an age-old lesson: a hand up is better than a handout. Just ask the more than 260,000 Michigan families who have moved from welfare to work under our reforms.

Gum Disease: The Battle for Your Mouth

I'm afraid I have "gum disease." What is it and can it be cured?

Many patients come in with the complaint of bleeding gums or gums that are painful and sensitive. They are most likely experiencing a condition called gingivitis. Gingivitis is the inflammation of the gums which is caused by bacteria and their products. These bacteria live in the plaque and tartar that forms on your teeth at the gumline.

Gingivitis is an early stage of gum disease. It is completely reversible with regular professional cleanings and proper home care. However, if the process of gum disease is allowed to progress, you may begin to experience the next stages of the disease, called periodontal disease. The inflammation of the gums will eventually spread down the surface of the tooth and begin to affect the bone and ligaments which hold the tooth in place. At this stage, gum disease is usually not completely reversible. However, with professional care, it can be stopped or stabilized at a level which will allow you to maintain your teeth in a healthy state.

Romulus Kiwanis pancake sales Saturday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

For the 45th year in a row, the Romulus Kiwanis Club will be offering an "all you can eat" pancake breakfast this Saturday at Romulus Progressive Hall, 11580 Ozga Road (near Five Points).

The hours of the breakfast are from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Tickets for the breakfast cost $4 for adults, $3.50 for senior citizens and $3 for children (ages five to 12).

Children under five years of age will be served free.

The menu calls for all the pancakes you can eat, two sausage patties, scrambled eggs, orange juice and coffee.

Proceeds from the breakfast will be used to support the Kiwanis Club's dental program for needy children. Local Kiwanians work with the Romulus Progressive Club and the Wayne County Health Department to fulfill the program's needs.

Kiwanis Club charter member Fred Hay remembers the first Kiwanis pancake breakfast offered back in 1956 at the old Romulus Theatre located in the Porter Building.

That structure still exists on Sterling Street adjacent to the new drug store being constructed today.

Since that time, Hay said, more than 100 pancake breakfasts have been held and an unrecorded amount of pancakes have been flipped.

The breakfasts have been conducted in the spring and fall seasons, as well as during special events being held in the city.

Foreign students will visit Romulus Nov. 18

Twenty two Rotary Club foreign exchange students from 15 different nations will be visiting Romulus on Nov. 18th courtesy of the Romulus Rotary Club.

Richard Donahey, spokesman for the local Rotary Club, said the visiting students will first be hosted for lunch by Capt. Nemo's restaurant.

Following that they will be treated to bowling opportunities at Walter's Recreation and then dinner at Leonardo's Restaurant.

The Romulus Rotary Club is a member of Super District 6400 that includes 50 Rotary Clubs in South-eastern Michigan and Southwestern Ontario, Canada.

These teenagers attend local high schools in the cities where their host parents reside and they will remain in the U.S. and Canada the rest of the school year.

Susan Meiers, who coordinates the visits, said the foreign students come from Mexico, Brazil, Belgium, Slovakia, Finland, Chile, India, Philippines, Denmark, France, Germany, Austria, Japan, Australia and Zimbabwe.

Rotary Clubs are able to send students from their own communities overseas for a year's study. Anyone in this area interested in this opportunity should call Joann Cutler during business hours for more information. Her number is 313-271-1221.

Donahey said "this program is just one of the many ways Rotarians work to build world peace and understanding."

Other western Wayne County communities that have Rotary Clubs are Wayne, Westland, Canton and Huron Township.

The Romulus Rotary Club meets Wednesday nights at the Community United Methodist Church at Olive and Bibbins in Romulus (a block off Goddard Road).

Nader's message humorous but tragic

To The Editor:
We saw and heard Ralph Nader at a recent meeting of the Economic Club of Detroit and listened to a 45 minute tirade lambasting the auto industry.

Here we have a man who is running for the office of President of the United States and he delivers a message which would be humorous if it wasn't so tragic. He didn't understand nor did his aides advise that he should be spending the time in presenting his message and explaining why he should be elected to the highest post in the land.

If it hadn't been for the hand-outs at the end of the meeting we would never have found out anything about his platform, his aims or goals. After reading them it became quite evident as to why he didn't leave much time for questions.
On the other hand, we are fortunate enough to live in a land where any person can become President. Haven't we already proven that?

Sincerely,
George M. Haddad

Romulus honor's student shines in New York City

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Personable Dana Noble -- an honor student at Romulus High School -- danced into the hearts of residents of the Big Apple during the 30th annual Hal Jackson's Talented Teens International Scholarship Competition.

State finals were held at Henry Ford Museum's Anderson Center Theatre in Dearborn.

It was there she earned her trip to New York City by performing a modern dance routine choreographed by Debbie Wilson, her dance instructor at Romulus High.

Locally she also was awarded the "Miss Congeniality" trophy at the Michigan Finals in Dearborn.

Dana's "people person" talents also won her the "Miss Personality" award in NYC -- a prize voted on by all 31 contestants.

There she also won her crown, sash, trophy, and $350 educational scholarship.

On Saturday, Dana will appear at the Detroit Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta's annual talent show at Wayne State University.

And on Nov. 12 she will be celebrity hostess at Detroit's 43rd annual Ebony Fashion Fair.

Upon returning from her week-long NYC visit, Dana declared "the experience was absolutely brehtaking and the best part was meeting the contestants from all over the world."

She also was thrilled to tour the Empire State Building, be a special guest on WBLS 107.5 in New York, see Saturday Night Live on Broadway and enjoy a fashion show and luncheon at Juston's.

Another major thrill was taking part in Amateur Night at the Apollo Theatre, where each contestant rubbed the famous log and got to walk across the famous stage.

Back at Romulus High, Dana is active in French, drama, band, dance, track and cheerleading activities.

3 Earth Angels Honored

Three volunteers -- who have been nicknamed "Earth Angels" -- by senior citizens at the Romulus Senior Center, were highlighted for their hours of donated service recently at the city's annual Volunteers' Luncheon. The trio are from left Edna (Sandy) Bell, Jackie Pregler and Vi Willoughby.

Romulus honor student Dana Noble displays her recently awarded crown and sash following her trip to New York City.

Time to separate men from the boys

John Glenn, Plymouth-Canton survive first-round of playoffs

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The high school football playoffs enter its second week of action, and only two local teams - Westland John Glenn and Plymouth-Canton remain standing.

Glenn shut out a strong Detroit Redford, 17-0, while Canton surprised Belleville 21-10 in their first tests to qualify for the district championships.

Detroit Catholic Central is next for Glenn, while Ann Arbor

Huron is blocking Canton's path.

The showdown for Glenn is 1 p.m. on Saturday at DCC's Hilbert Junior High (off of Beech Daly, between 5 and 6 Mile Roads), while Canton has a 7:30 p.m. date with the Ann Arbor Huron River Rats.

This will be the third meeting between coach Chuck Gordon's Rockets and Catholic Central. In their last encounter, in 1996, Glenn surfaced the winner, but the initial meeting of the two teams, in 1988, DCC won a decisive 21-6 ball game.

This DCC team is noted for its defense, and the key, according to those who know, is whether the hosts can stop Glenn's senior running back Dan Smitherman, who has been phenomenal this season.

Smitherman was incredible against a defense-minded Redford team in the opening round of post-season competition. He rushed for 256 yards on 35 carries to lead the Rockets to their eighth victory in 10 starts.

Smitherman got the Rockets off to a fast start early as he capped a 77-yard, seven play drive engineered by quarterback Brian Ceckewicz. Smitherman scored his first of two TDs on a 23-yard run. The senior Glenn tailback was used on all seven plays in that initial drive.

Andrew Peiffer kicked the extra point and the visitors were up 7-0 with 3:26 left in the opening quarter.

Glenn struck again in the second quarter after a 12-play, 56-yard drive stalled at the 24. Peiffer capped the drive with a field goal, lifting the Rockets to a 10-0 lead. The lead was not seriously challenged the rest of the game.

The Rockets cashed in on Smitherman's 25-yard run, with 2:30 left in the third period, for their final touchdown. Peiffer's attempt for the point-after was good.

Gordon received an outstanding performance from his defensive unit which managed to shut down Redford's prolific scoring machine. Redford's aerial assault was made impotent thanks to a Rocket secondary that accounted for four interceptions - one each by Dave Mijal, Kevon Latimer and Smitherman.

Matt Berent also stood out on defense. He managed to collect 10 tackles, including a pair of solos.

Joining Berent in leading the charge against the Redford QB were defensive end Mark Wacker and Aaron Copeland.

Oh, how the mighty fell!

Romulus makes an early exit

Romulus' Chris Talley (5) finds his path to the Allen Park goal line blocked by a Jaguar defender. Talley managed to sidestep the defender and score one of the Eagles' TD. Unfortunately, it wasn't enough to stop Allen Park. The Parkers handed Romulus a season-ending loss in the first round of the playoffs. Photo by Carl Brown

Allen Park upsets Eagles

The mighty must fall as Romulus discovered Friday night at Allen Park.

And fall Romulus did. Riding the crest of a nine-game winning streak, coach Wade Cook's Eagles had their wings clipped by the host, 21-18, in the opening round of the district playoffs.

The victory earned Allen Park (9-1) a shot at the state's top-ranked team. The Jaguars will meet Farmington Hills Harrison at 1 p.m. on Saturday to determine a regional championship.

A disappointed Cook said that he felt his team made some costly turnovers early in the confrontation that proved fatal in the stretch. The first-year Romulus coach also pointed out that Allen Park's "cluster" offense frustrated his team.

"We didn't make the proper adjustments in time," Cook added.

Also, Romulus helped with its own demise. The Eagles fumbled on their first series of plays, then aided and abetted the hosts by committing two consecutive costly penalties - one a face mask, the other a pass interference infraction that moved Allen Park deep into Romulus territory.

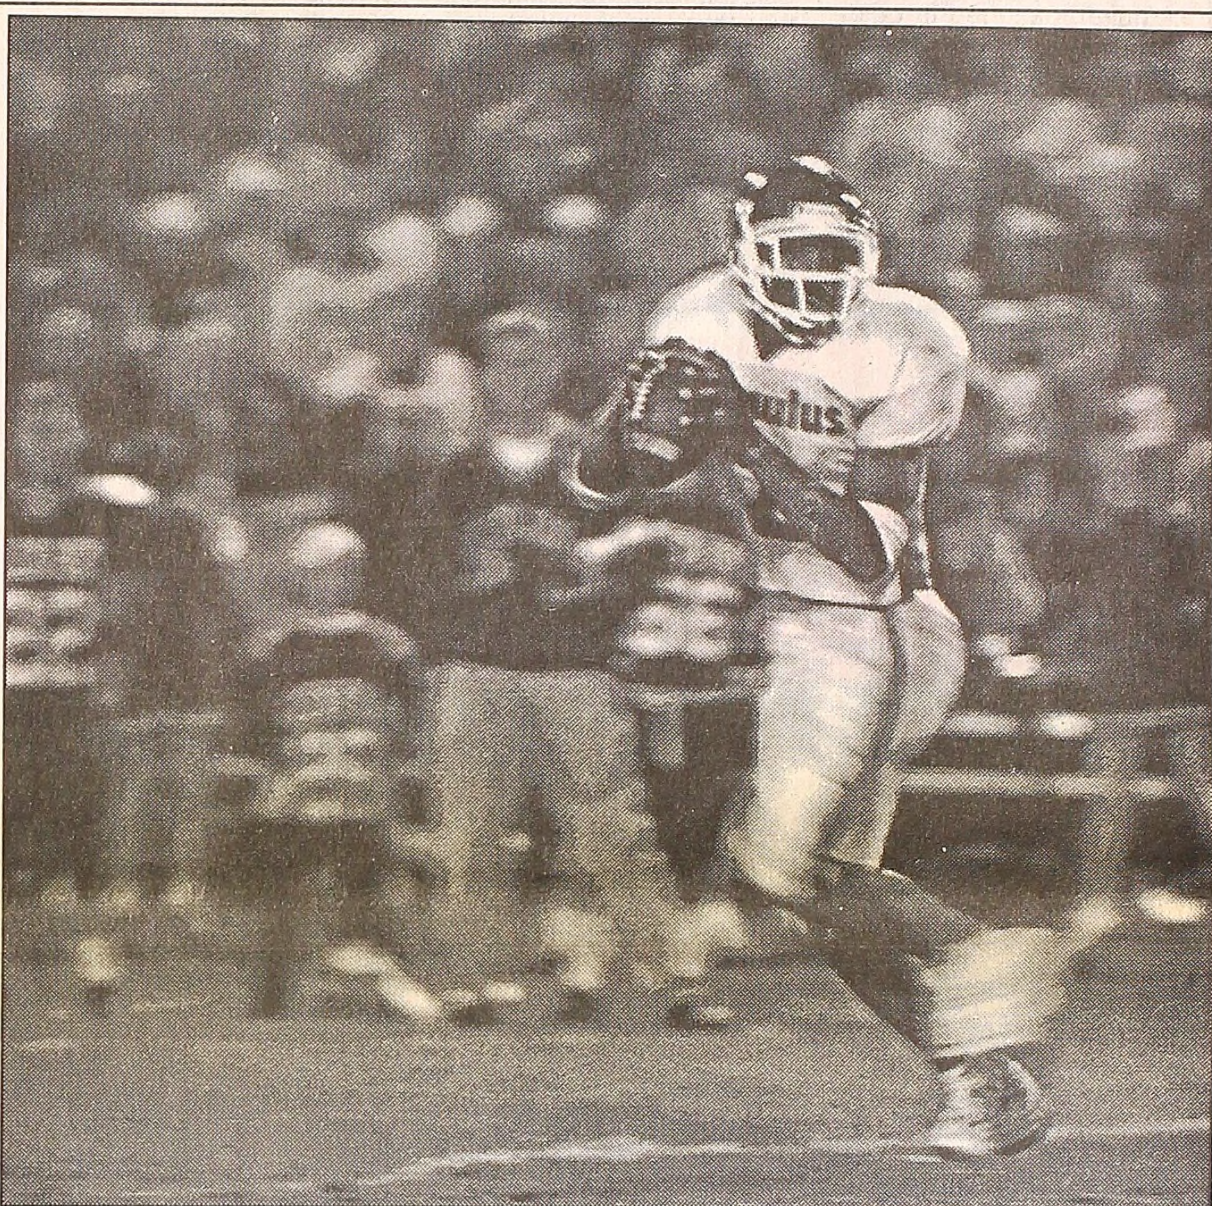

Two plays into the Jaguars' first series, Allen Park running back David Fraser bolted into the visitors' end zone for the game-opening touchdown.

Then, after another penalty which moved AP to the one-yard line, the hosts opted to go for the two point conversion and made it. All of a sudden the Eagles were looking up at a 8-0 deficit.

It got worse.

Allen Park came back and scored again on back-to-back field goals of 31 and 34 yards thanks to Brian Silber to take a 14-0 lead before Romulus settled

Stevenson is favored to win WLAA swim title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

When the 10-member Western Lakes Conference girls' swimming & diving teams gather at Plymouth-Salem today for the preliminaries, the field will be out to stop undefeated title favorite Livonia Stevenson from dominating the conference championships.

The Spartans are perennial favorites and will enter the pool with an unblemished record.

"They definitely will be the team to beat in this year's meet," said Glenn's Randy Ferguson, sizing up the Spartans' chances to win it all. "Stevenson is in a class of its own."

But the Spartans may face serious challenges from Plymouth-Salem, Northville and North Farmington - three teams that have talent.

Salem defeated Glenn 131-55 as a tune up for the meet.

Glenn averted the Salem sweep thanks to the efforts of Kristyn Peterson, who won the 200-yard freestyle in 2:09.1.

It was Glenn that dominated its non-conference dual meet with Adrian earlier in the week. The Rockets swept eight of the possible 12 places en route to a 108-75 victory as Jessica Seres and Kristin Fischer each posted double victories.

Seres covered the 200-yard individual medley in 2:32.8, and also won the 500-yard freestyle in 6:12.7.

Fischer led the 50-yard freestylers to the wall as she turned in the winning time of 27.3. She was clocked in 1:09.6 for the 100-yard butterfly.

Lindsay Ranas gave the Rockets a victory in the 100-yard freestyle as she finished in 1:00.6.

Glenn also swept all three relays.

Ranas, Kristyn Peterson, Fischer and Seres teamed up to win the 200-yard medley relay. The winning time was 2:05.0, while Ferguson's lineup for the 200-yard freestyle relay - Amanda Sonak, Brooke Albery, Fischer and Ranas

Belleville is out, looking in after loss to Canton

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

They didn't expect to be there, but Belleville is on the sidelines looking in after the Tigers made an unexpected and sudden exit from the state playoffs.

Plymouth-Canton, led by quarterback Oliver Wolcott, came up with the big plays at the right time Friday night and jolted host, Belleville, 21-10, in the first-round of the playoffs.

Canton didn't play the role of a fourth-place finisher in the Western Division of the Western Lake Conference, Western Division, against a Belleville team that won a share of the Mega-

Red Conference championship.

Coach Tim Baechler's Chiefs refused to quit.

Canton rallied from a 10-7 halftime deficit and scored two unanswered touchdowns in the second half to pull out the first round victory at Belleville High. The speechless, atypical Tigers managed to pick up only two first downs in the final two quarters of their 2000 season.

Canton advances to the district championship game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday at Ann Arbor Huron.

Huron, with a near-perfect 9-1 record, ended Walled Lake Western's season in the preliminary round, 13-10.

Canton has won seven of its 10 games and is making its second appearance not first, as reported a week ago - in post-season playoff competition.

In 1990, the Chiefs defeated John Glenn 22-16 in their inaugural playoff appearance.

Friday night, before a standing-room-only crowd, Canton drew first blood against a Belleville ball club that came into battle after giving neighboring Romulus tall it could handle for most of 3 1/2 quarters before falling 26-21.

The Chiefs had tuned up for Belleville by turning back natural rival, Plymouth-Salem, 27-7. The victory, their sixth, enabled them to qualify for the playoff.

Wolcott, a senior, broke the ice midway in the opening frame when he saw favorite target, Bill Gazsi, maneuvering toward the sidelines and fired a pass that Gazi caught and turned into the Chiefs' first TD. The pass covered 27-yards.

In their next series, Belleville answered thanks to senior running back Kyle Myer's off-tackle dash that covered 50-yards before he was brought down by the Canton defense.

Canton dug in and refused to yield, and LaPointe called upon junior kicker Joe Orskey to do his thing - Orskey proceeded to boot a 20-yard field goal.

The Tigers also got a break on the next series before the half.

Antoine Jordan's quickness proved instrumental in putting the hosts on the scoreboard with the go-ahead points.

The 6-3, 220-pound junior linebacker pounced on a loose ball that set up senior quarterback Jason Szmansky's over-the-middle touchdown pass to Chris Miller.

In the trenches now with a shaky 10-7 lead, Belleville went into the locker room knowing it had a battle on its hands to the end. But, when the two teams came back to the playing field, it was Canton that took the initiative.

With Wolcott in the driver's seat, the senior Canton QB put together a 12-play, 65-yard drive that culminated with Gazsi's lunge into the Belleville end zone from two-yards out.

Undefeated Inkster wins its first Mega-Gold title

Undefeated Inkster cleared its path to the Mega-Gold Conference playoffs with an impressive victory over title challenger Highland Park on Tuesday, then fought off a Romulus that sought to redeem itself from a first round loss to the divisional leader.

The lopsided 49-25 Inkster victory over Highland Park, and their come-from-behind 43-39 victory over Romulus gave the Vikings and first-year coach Dave Mann the coveted title outright.

Mann said he was very pleased with his team's efforts.

"In fact, we're elated by the achievements of this team. Whenever you win a conference title it says something about the character of your players. They had set their minds to reach this goal, and they accomplished one of their goals."

"And I'm very proud of these kids, and I know their parents and the school district are, too."

Mann was quick to caution that "there are other challenges facing his squad."

"We have the Gold-Blue Mega Conference playoffs before us, then there are the district playoffs after that," Mann stressed. "This is the most exciting part of any season."

Inkster, with a 15-0 overall record, enters the Gold-Blue combined divisional playoffs as the top seed and a pre-tournament favorite. Mann's Vikings will face Dearborn Heights Crestwood, which finished fourth in the Blue Division, in the first round of the playoffs.

The playoffs begin tonight (Thursday) as Inkster entertains the Chargers.

Highland Park, the runners-up in the Gold Division, take on the Blue's third-best team, Edsel Ford, in the Parkers' gym, while Romulus, which finished third overall in the Gold, squares off against Ypsilanti. The fourth team that qualified, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, will travel to Willow Run.

The Mega Gold-Blue semifinals will be staged Tuesday at Willow Run. The finals will be conducted Nov. 10 at Romulus High School.

With Inkster's freshman forward Tiffany Smith tossing in six of her game high 16 points and teammate Amanda Parker adding five of her 10 points in the first period, the Vikings jumped on host Highland Park, 13-4 and never looked back.

Inkster led 27-8 at the half and 38-16 for three periods as Mann substituted indiscriminately during the final 10 minutes of the showdown that wasn't.

"I was really surprised at how our kids handled Highland Park," Mann later said. "But it was a different story against Romulus."

An aggressive and revenge-seeking Romulus moved to a 11-7 first-period lead and held on 21-20 at the half thanks, in part, to the overall performances of Tiffany Ashy and Jessica Jackson, who led the Eagles in scoring and on the boards.

Turning to their defenses in the third period, each team managed to score only six points and the game went down to the final minutes of the final frame when Inkster's Evelyn Heath sparked a Viking surge by scoring all nine of her points, including a last-basket from a rebound that sealed the victory.

"We were two-points up when an ill-conceived attempt for a three-pointer left one of my player's hands," recalled Mann. "I don't know how Heath managed to do it, but she slipped past the crowd and came up with the rebound, then scored the final basket."

Parker finished the game with 11 points. Carena Easley chipped in with 10 for the Vikings who made 10 of 24 at the free throw line. Ash's 14 topped the field; Jackson scored 10 for the Eagles.

In a rare third game in a week, Inkster buried Academy of Detroit, Oak Park, 65-14, on Friday for win No. 15. All nine Inkster players scored.

Robichaud falls to Rouge

In a cliffhanger that was decided in the final seconds, Robichaud dropped a 55-53 decision to River Rouge. The loss dipped the Bulldogs' Mega-Gold Division record to 5-7 for the season.

"We had our opportunities," said Robichaud Coach Warren Woods, "but did not capitalize on them. We led for most of this game, except for the end where it counts the most."

Woods and the Bulldogs got a superb overall performance out of Mary Riley, a freshman who has stepped up her game in the stretch. Riley scored a game-high 19 points and also grabbed 15 rebounds in a losing cause.

Robichaud's senior guard, Ericka Davis, also scored in double figures as she had 14 points and six assists. LaDonna Nealy finished with 11 points and 18 rebounds for the Bulldogs, who canned 15 of 26 free throws.

Robichaud led 16-14 after one, and managed to hold off the Panthers, 30-27, after two periods. Each team scored 10 points in the third period, but Rouge managed to salt away the game when the Panthers finished with an 18-13 edge for the final eight minutes.

Woods and the Bulldogs got Highland Park on the rebound of the Parkers' loss to Inkster. Though the Dearborn Heights cagers managed to take an early 14-12 lead, that slim advantage dissipated when the Parkers outscored their rivals, 16-5, in the second period, then coasted to the 12-point victory.

"We played with more heart in the second half," Woods said. "But we never did manage to recover from that devastating second quarter when we scored only five points."

Riley again led the pack. Her 17 points and 12 rebounds gave her individual scoring honors.

Farmington rally nips Glenn, 51-42

Westland John Glenn wasted an outstanding effort by Bianco Woods who scored a team high 15 points in the Rockets' 51-42 setback at the hands of Farmington in a Western Lakes Conference game.

The loss left coach John Albrecht's Rockets with a 1-8 conference record.

"We're an improved ball club," said Albrecht, "but we are still making too many mistakes and turnovers. If we can eliminate some of them, we could turn things around."

Farmington enjoyed a 19-12 lead at the half, but Glenn, thanks to Woods and Sara Tyree, closed to within a point, 27-26, of catching their hosts.

Glenn kept the outcome of the

WLAA coaches' team

Glenn's Smitherman picked all-conference

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

To no one's surprise, Westland John Glenn's superb running back Dan Smitherman was named unanimously this week to the all-Western Lakes Conference 2000 Football Team.

Smitherman, following in the footsteps of former teammates Eric Jones and Reggie Spearmon - both All-State selections as well - has compiled more than 2000 yards rushing in 10 games, with at least one more game to be played.

He could possibly shattered the school record in rushing yardage.

The rugged senior back is closing in on Jones' record of 2183 yards, set a year ago. Smitherman already has the Most Touchdowns Scored in one season record all sewed up.

Glenn is scheduled to play Detroit Catholic Central at 1 p.m. on Saturday in a regional finals. The game will be hosted by DCC and played on CC's Hilbert Junior High School field. (Beech Daly, between 5 and 6-Mile Roads.

The WLAA coaches also have named two other running backs: Dan Wilson (Livonia Stevenson) and Brandon Langston (Northville).

The quarterback slot is filled by Livonia Franklin's senior standout, Joe Ruggiero, a 6-2, 185-pound versatile athlete, who has all the credentials to compete in the Big 10, according to the WLAA coaches.

Glenn (4-1), which finished second to Walled Lake Central (5-0) in the race for the Lakes Division title, also placed 6-6, 275-pound senior Nick Samples on the all-conference team. Samples was named as one of four linemen on offense.

The other three linemen on offense are: Chris Lebeis (Northville), Kerry Arold (Harrison) and Andy Webb (Harrison).

Rounding out the team are: center Mike Little (Walled Lake Western), tight end Dave Condeni (Harrison), wide receiver Tim King (W.L. Western) and wide receiver Agin Shabaj (Harrison).

Central dominated the Lakes Division but lost the conference title to undefeated Farmington Harrison, which won the Western Division title.

The divisional standings for the recently completed 2000 campaign are as follows: In the Western Division - Harrison (5-0), Walled Lake Western (4-1), Northville (3-2), Plymouth Canton (2-3), Livonia Franklin (1-4) and Livonia Churchill (0-5).

In the Lakes Division, the teams finished as follows: Walled Lake Central (5-0), Westland John Glenn (4-1), Livonia Stevenson (3-2), Farmington (2-3), Plymouth Salem (1-4), North Farmington (0-5).

Sinnott, Gaines named on all-WLAA defense

Plymouth-Canton and John Glenn each placed one player on the Western Lakes Conference All-Conference Defense.

Canton, a team that remains "alive" in the playoffs thanks to a victory over Belleville last week, is represented on the WLAA's defense by 6-2, 175-pound senior defensive back Jerry Gaines.

Glenn's Randy Sinnott made the coveted lineup as an end and outside linebacker. The 5-10, 220-pound senior will also be seeing action on Saturday in the finals of the regional playoffs against Detroit Catholic Central.

WLAA coaches, who picked the lineup, also named four down lineman. They are: Marcus Mencotti (Harrison), Aaron Kennedy (Harrison), Tony Henry (Walled Lake Western) and Matt Cieslak (Livonia Stevenson).

Will Pyant, of Harrison fame, joins Sinnott, as the other end-side linebacker.

Linebackers include: Brent Erwin (Walled Lake Western), Tim Doig (Harrison), Matt Recknagel (Walled Lake Central), while the coaches selected two other backs - Terrill Mayberry (Harrison) and Aaron Redden (Northville) to join Gaines in the secondary.

Northville standout Tim Kelleher was named as the kicker-punter for the mythical WLAA All-Conference 2000 Team.

3 freshmen selected to All-Mega Gold team

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

In a realm usually dominated by the seniors and juniors, three freshmen have managed to break into the lineup of the all-Mega Conference, Gold Division girls' basketball team.

All-Area and All-Conference teams usually are dominated by seniors.

Two of the freshmen - Tiffany Smith and Carena Esley - form the nucleus of an Inkster High ball club that has won all 15 of its regularly-scheduled games and captured the school's first-ever Mega-Gold Division girls' basketball championship, while the third freshman, Mary Riley, is scorching the nets as a member of Robichaud's team.

Riley, a 5-7, guard, is considered one of the finest all-around players in the Mega-Gold this season. In the stretch, she has been the Bulldogs' top scorer and rebounder.

Highland Park, the divisional runners-up, placed two of the three Randle sisters on the squad. Nykoya and Jaquette Randle are good reasons why the Parkers finished second in a talented division. Nykoya and Jaquette's younger sister, Laketta, also has earned accolades as a Highland Park player. Next year, Laketta and Nykoya will definitely play key roles in the Parkers' bid for the title.

Though they finished third, behind Inkster and Highland Park in the race for the Mega-Gold title, coaches drafted three players from Romulus' outstanding squad to the All-Conference. The Eagles are represented in the lineup by Tiffany Ash, Patrice Beasley, and Jessica Jackson.

Along with Riley, Robichaud also has sharpshooter-playmaker Ericka Davis on the Mega-Gold team.

Rounding out the 2000 lineup is Jodi VanWassehova, a 5-5 sophomore, who is the lone representative from a competitive Gibraltar Carlson team.

It just wasn't meant to be as Romulus lost a crucial playoff game to Allen Park in the first round of the playoffs. That loss is reflected on faces of Romulus standouts' quarterback Daniel Jarrett (from right), running sensation Charles Searcy and lineman Richard Rhinehart. The Eagles finished with a 9-1 record and their third consecutive Mega Conference championship. Photo by Carl Brown.

down and got serious.

With a minute left before the intermission, the Eagles broke the ice thanks to senior quarterback Daniel Jarrett who threw a 32-yard strike to running back Charles Searcy.

At the halftime mark, Allen Park had a 14-6 lead. But that lead was short-lived.

Romulus returned to the battle field in the third quarter and dominated the playing field. The Eagles closed to two when, Jarrett and Searcy reversed roles on a play that coach Cook said they practiced on all week.

Jarrett was on the receiving end of a 32-yard pass from Searcy that gave the Eagles their next six-pointer. Romulus could have, but didn't, tie up the game as Jarrett overthrew his receiver on the play for the two-point conversion.

Allen Park shocked the undisputed Mega Conference, Blue Division champ with a TD pass-run play that quarterback Bob Marten pulled off with Masser which covered 64-yards.

When Jarrett came back with a 11-yard touchdown pass to Christopher Talley that lifted the Eagles to within 3-points, it looked as if Romulus would muster enough strength to pull it off.

But Allen Park managed to control the rest of the game.

"I told the kids afterwards," Cook said, "that we just didn't have enough team plays. I also told them that 'yes, I am disappointed that we didn't win; but 'no' I am not disappointed in them."

"They are great kids, and we had a great season. It was rewarding, every time we met, and I don't want them to forget that."

Jarrett closed out his prep career with six of 14 pass completions for 139 yards and two touchdowns, while Searcy rushed for 106 yards on 22 carries and he also caught four passes for 68 yards and a touchdown.

game in doubt until midway in the fourth period when Farmington managed to outscore their rivals, 24-14, for the 51-42 victory.

Woods' 15 points stood up as Glenn's high. Tyree contributed nine points and freshman Jennifer Thauvette finished with eight points.

Glenn will not find the going any easier in the post-season. Albrecht and the Rockets will join Belleville, one of the perennial state powers, Romulus, Garden City, Livonia Franklin and Wayne Memorial in the battle for a Class A district championship. They began the conference playoffs Tuesday night.

Local high school girls' basketball coaches are urged to report results of their games during regular business hours, Monday through Friday, by contacting the MNC Sports Desk at 734-729-4000.

Belleville failed to muster a counter-offensive. In fact, the Tigers left their worst for the last half of the season. They mustered only two first downs the rest of the way.

Wolcott came back with the icing for the victory cake. He fired a 26-yard touchdown pass to David Reeser that silenced the home crowd for good.

WCCC District requests 1.5 mil tax increase

Citing great improvements to class offerings and student services, Wayne County Community College District is asking voters to approve a permanent 1.5 mil tax increase next week.

The proposition, known as "Education First," would enable WCCCD to establish a fund for capital improvements and program developments.

WCCCD's chancellor, Dr. Curtis Ivery, has stated that the college has made tremendous strides in the past five years, "establishing a powerful and empowering presence throughout Wayne County."

He cited the college's recent 10-year accreditation from the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education, the college's increased enrollment (it now serves some 20,000 students per year), and the school's 20 new programs.

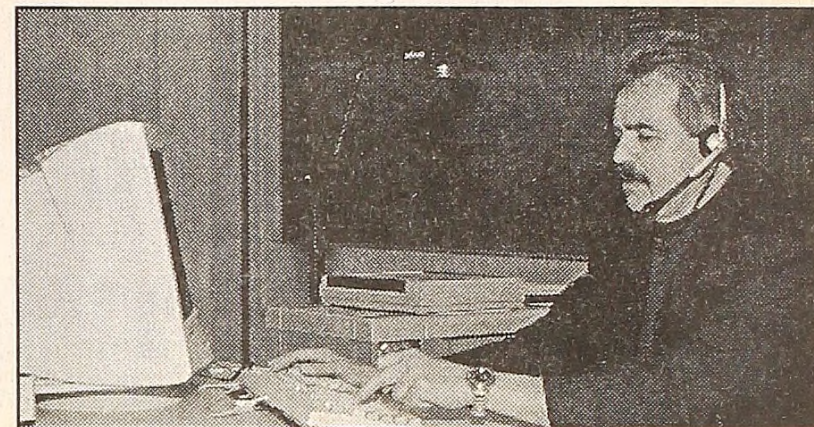

Ivery said, "While WCCCD has been able to respond to the educational needs of the community, the physical state of its five campuses remains an obstacle to progress....the College has been unable to apply preventive maintenance measures on all of the campus building because it could only make repairs to facilities and equipment as they broke down."

The $100 million in new tax dollars would tackle some fairly lofty projects, such as a new building for the Northwest Campus in northwest Detroit, a new multi-purpose performing arts/conference/business services center at the Downriver vices center at the Downriver Campus in Taylor, and repairs and computer technology centers at each campus.

The 1.5 mil increase would cost a Wayne County homeowner with a house with an assessed value of $100,000 about $37.30 a year.

Critics of the millage, while acknowledging that the college has taken strides to improve services and its reputation, say that requesting an 250 per cent increase over the college's current millage rate is inappropriate, as is the request to make the increase permanent, "given the college's shaky history....the college needs to break these programs apart and offer them to voters in cleanly accountable packages: a long-term operating millage, returning to voters at least once a decade, and separate capital improvement program that also adheres to a timetable." (The Detroit Free Press).

Wayne County Community College District hopes to pass a permanent millage increase. Part of the funds will expand the school's technological offerings. Above, Alex DePetro, Ph.D., Campus Assistant Dean for Instruction, has been leading distance learning programs, including e-learning classes, which are interactive courses on the Internet.

Playground project reflects it take a community . . .

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Like most everything that needs work behind it, it takes people to accomplish deeds.

And King Academy's successful drive to build a playground reflects that philosophy. A philosophy that is echoed by It Takes a Community to Raise a Child...

On Sept. 30, the King Academy rallied its resources and thanks to Ronald McDonald House, which awarded the academy a grant to purchase needed playground equipment, a playground became a reality at the academy.

King Academy's Parent and Teacher Cooperative Organization (PATCO) conducted fundraisers to help offset some of the cost, and local businesses, like Home Depot,

"It Takes a Community to Raise a Child"

Kroger, Target, Cherry Hill Market, and Pizza Hut also chipped in.

King Academy officials said that the playground was put together by 55 parents, staff and friends. T-Shirts also were presented to the participants that stated: "I'm on the King Team."

The Playworks Company also was on site every step of the construction phase to ensure a safe and quality playground.

Jackie Ford, Playworks/Playground Coordinator, offered extensive support toward the completion of the project, while Charles Givens, who has children at the academy, volunteered and participated in every phase of the project. He offered his trade skills, saving even more money.

Shirley F. Mosley, Executive Director of King Academy, said she was pleased with the success of the project and April Brown, Parent Coordinator and Playground Coordinator also expressed pleasure with the cooperation and the completion of the project.

"The efforts of all involved has developed a sense of pride and ownership for our school," Brown said. "This playground stands as a symbol of how everyone, no matter what their contribution, makes a difference."

Seniors on the go

Be fit after 50, seniors are urged

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Proper exercise not pep pills can lead senior citizens closer to a so called "fountain of youth."

This advice is being offered by the National Institute of Aging in an effort to add quality life time to senior citizens.

To emphasize their enthusiasm for such efforts, the NIA has produced a 48-minute video and 100-page companion book at an affordable price of only $7.

If you stick with the program for a month, you will also receive a certificate of recognition from National Institute of Aging Director Richard J. Hodes.

The program was produced because there currently are 71 million Americans who are 50 and over and 34 million who are aged 65 and over.

Surveys show today that:

- 25 percent of all adults do no physical activity at all.
- half of the women 75 years of age or over are inactive.
- lack of exercise and poor nutrition were the second largest est underlying causes of death in the U.S. in the last decade.

The exercise program stresses four elements:

- Endurance exercises that increase stamina and may delay or prevent diabetes, colon cancer, heart disease and strokes.
- Strength exercises, which increase metabolism helping to control weight and regulate blood sugar.

• Flexibility exercises, which help prevent and aid recovery from injuries.

• Balance exercises, which help prevent falls -- a major cause of broken hips and other injuries that lead to disability and loss of independence.

Former astronaut John Glenn endorses the program and Margaret Richard, who leads the filmed exercise plan, is a well known fitness leader seen on public television.
